

Instructions

A number of athletes and celebrities have been dropped by their sponsors and penalized by their team for comments they have made off the court or on twitter. The latest is Kyrie Irving. Considering his case, how do you think his team should have handled that situation? What about the NBA? How about the sponsors? This paper only needs to be a page in length and does not require any citations.